Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 24-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "infiltrant" renders the claims indefinite because it is unclear what can be encompassed by this term. The scope is unclear and thus the claims fail to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicant's arguments have been considered however the paragraphs pointed to in the specification contain no explicit definition of infiltrant and as the term also has no defined meaning in the art, it is unclear what the scope of the claims are.

Please note that the language of a claim must make it clear what subject matter the claim encompasses to adequately delineate its "metes and bounds". See, e.g., the following decisions: In re Hammack, 427 F.2d. 1378, 1382, 166 USPQ 204, 208 (CCPA 1970); In re Venezia 530 F.2d. 956, 958, 189 USPQ 149, 151 (CCPA 1976); In re Goffe, 526 F.2d. 1393, 1397, 188 USPQ 131, 135 (CCPA 1975); In re Watson, 517 F.2d. 465, 477, 186 USPQ 11, 20 (CCPA 1975); In re Knowlton 481 F.2d. 1357, 1366, 178 USPQ 486, 492 (CCPA 1973). The courts have also indicated that before claimed subject matter can properly be compared to the prior art, it is essential to know what the claims do in fact cover. See, e.g., the following decisions: In re Steele, 305 F 2d. 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962); In re Moore 439 F 2d. 1232, 169 USPQ 236 (CCPA 1969); In re Merat, 519 F 2d. 1390, 186 USPQ 471 (CCPA 1975).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 24-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Muschler (5824084).

Applicant's arguments have been considered however they are not persuasive to overcome the prior art of record. While Muschler prefers using an anticoagulant, they do not teach it as critical and would seem to suggest that while "preferred," the anticoagulant is not critical. Also applicant's arguments raise a point for consideration- does the presence of an anticoagulant preclude any coagulation? If not (and it would not appear to necessarily preclude all) then any coagulation in the Muschler invention would read on applicant's invention.

Muschler teaches a composite bone graft which is made using a porous material and a BMA.

The reference does not teach that the BMA is partially coagulated however the reference does disclose that an anti-coagulant is preferred but does not require it. Embodiments wherein the anti-coagulant is not used would inherently contain some coagulation and thus read on what is instantly claimed.

While Muschler teaches that the use of an anti-coagulant is preferred, Muschler does not teach that it is required and as such teaches that the invention can be performed with a coagulated sample and provide the motivation to do so.

Therefore it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to fill an osseous void using the method of Muschler wherein the BMA is at least partially coagulated.

As the references clearly indicate that the various proportions and amounts of the ingredients used in the claimed composition are result effective variables, they would be routinely optimized by one of ordinary skill in the art in practicing the invention disclosed by those references.

Accordingly, the claimed invention was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Accordingly, the claimed invention was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

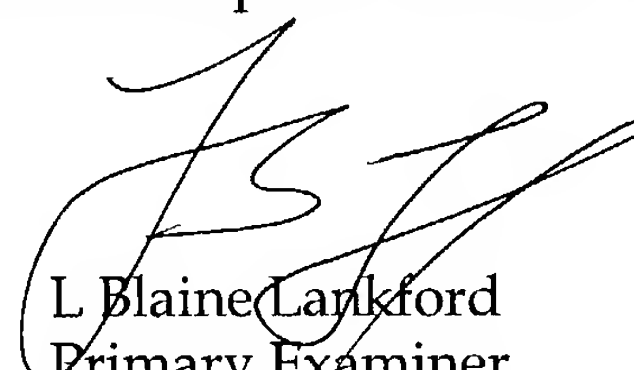

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
